Memphis Has More Violence

By RANDY SCHMID
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arson, brick-throwing and sporadic gunfire spread through sections of the city as Memphis experienced a second night of violence Wednesday.

Disorders started again early in the day after Mayor Henry Loeb announced an overnight curfew. Loeb later canceled the curfew but fires and disturbances continued into the night.

The violence began Tuesday night during services for a black youth, Elton Hayes, 17, who died six days ago after a police chase. His death has been listed by the district attorney as homicide.

Police first said Hayes died of injuries suffered when a pickup truck in which he was a passenger crashed at a police roadblock. But Dist. Atty. Phil Canale later said he had evidence that Hayes died of blows to the head.

Loeb lifted the curfew after black leaders called for calm and told him the curfew would inflame the situation.

Police Inspector John Barger said a police officer was hospitalized after being struck in the groin by a brick, two firemen were cut by flying glass and a Negro lounge operator was shot in the arm.

Barger said he was uncertain whether the shooting was connected with the disorders.

One fire truck was hit by gunfire and officials said about a dozen pieces of equipment were damaged by thrown objects.

Barger said he received "quite a few" reports of minor injuries, and that more than 45 persons had been arrested. Firefighters responded to more than 200 fire calls.

About 300 blacks, meeting at a church, passed resolutions demanding that 23 police officers on temporary suspension in connection with Hayes' death be removed from the payroll and that charges be placed against them by Monday.

Among the suspended officers were supervisors who were not at the scene when the vehicle crashed. Two other youths in the truck charged they were beaten by police after their arrest. Police said the chase began when they tried to stop the vehicle for reckless driving.

Aboriginal Land Claims Settled

By JOHN KAMPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to settle the aboriginal land claims of Alaska natives has cleared its highest hurdle in Congress after being around over 20 years.

The House passed Wednesday 334 to 63, a bill to give 55,000 Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians $925 million and 40 million acres.

This would settle natives' claims of title through historic use and occupancy to most of Alaska's 325 million acres, which the United States bought from Russia in 1867 for $7.2 million.

The bill was sent to the Senate, which passed a similar bill last year and soon will consider another, more liberal $1-billion measure that has the Senate Interior Committee's approval.

Mediators Seek End to Coal Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators are pressing to reopen deadlocked negotiations in the three-week-old strike of 80,000 miners that has virtually halted U.S. soft-coal production.

"We intend to continue working with the parties to obtain a basis for resumption of negotiations and an ultimate settlement," said mediator Robert W. Donahoe after talks broke off between the United Mine Workers and the industry Wednesday.

Union President W. A. "Tony" Boyle said the talks stopped after he refused a demand of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association for a new strike-penalty clause.

The industry said in a statement the clause is needed to halt frequent wildcat strikes.

"We say loud and clear that we will never accept this union-busting clause," Boyle said.

Casualties in War at a New Low

SAIGON (AP) — Five Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the lowest weekly death toll in more than six years, the U.S. Command announced today.

The death toll, three less than the week before, reflected the low level of fighting involving American troops as well as the continuing withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam.

The death toll was the lowest since the first week in August 1965, when three Americans were killed in action. However, the total of American wounded increased last week to 84, the command said. A total of 72 wounded had been reported the week before.

The U.S. Command also reported 15 American servicemen died last week of nonhostile causes, including illness and accidents. This was five more than the previous week.

Above Fleecy Clouds: Remarks That Make Pilots Flip Wings

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks an airplane pilot gets tired of hearing:

"Do you get another ring around your sleeve every time you take an airplane up and bring it down safely?"

"Is it much harder to drive an airplane than it is a truck?"

"Oooh, he looks so military in his uniform. I don't know whether to kiss him or salute him."

"I'm a white knuckle flier. Can you take it kind of slow and easy on this trip?"

"If I took out $50,000 insurance and named you the beneficiary, sir, how would that affect my chances of coming down alive?"

"Oh, are you the pilot, fellow? I've got a little bursitis in my shoulder. Would you mind carrying my bag out to the plane?"

"When you pass over Omaha, would you mind circling around it a few times?" My son Rodney was born there, but he's never seen it from the air."

"You jet pilots get paid so much these days it's a wonder more of you don't buy airplanes and go into business for yourself like cab drivers do."

"After we get up in the air, would you mind opening one of the windows? It's getting a bit stuffy in here."

"Stop! Stop! I've changed my mind. I've decided I want to go by railroad after all."

"What are all those buttons and switches and lights up in that little room where you sit? Do they tell you what to do next, or do you tell them what to do?"

"If the food on this airline is so good, pilot, why are you carrying your own lunch?"

"If I get locked in the men's room, will you be sure and let me out when we get to Kansas City?"

"Things are getting pretty dull back here. How about me coming up and joining you and the copilot in a little game of three-handed gun runnery. There won't be any trouble over it. I'm a personal friend of one of your firm's vice presidents."

"Whenever you stop over at Shannon Airport, Roger, how about picking up a few jugs of low-cost booze and smuggling them through customs for me?"

"I want to thank you for a very nice ride. Sorry. Now wait until I go through my purse. Oh, yes, there it is. Here take this quarter. I want you to keep it all for yourself."

Teacher Pay Hikes Ordered Rescinded

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Russellville School District has been ordered by the Internal Revenue Service to rescind salary increases that was granted to teachers this year.

About 140 teachers began receiving raises last month as part of an average increase of $400 this year. The IRS directed the school district to recover the money from the teachers.

The IRS directive was the first such order in Arkansas since President Nixon's wage-price freeze went into effect Aug. 14.

Supt. Harvey L. Young said the raises had been given under contracts that the teachers signed last spring. He said the IRS order means the school district would have to revert to last year's pay schedule.

Young said teachers could expect a gross reduction on their next month's paychecks of about $80. He said about $40 would be to recover the raise and the remainder would be converting to last year's schedule. Young said the IRS had told him the money must be recovered by Nov. 13.

Young said he did not know why the IRS had singled out the Russellville district.

A spokesman at IRS said a complaint on the Russellville district had been received, but he declined to further discuss the case.

Showers Are Expected in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Shower activity was expected to end in Arkansas today as a weak cool front fades out of the weather picture.

The front triggered heavy rains in Texas, Oklahoma and the western portion of Arkansas the past few days.

With the exit of the front, high pressure will again be the dominant feature in the Arkansas weather. Another weak cool front may drift into the northwestern portion of the state late Friday, but no significant change in the weather is expected.

New Effort to Force a Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is preparing to debate a new effort to force U.S. withdrawal from Indochina but the Foreign Relations Committee chairman says he doubts President Nixon will pay attention even if it passed.

The new proposal, calling for total U.S. withdrawal within six months and barring funds except to pull out, was included Wednesday by the Foreign Relations panel in a $3.2-billion foreign-aid authorization bill. The vote adding it was 11 to 5. Debate will open next week.

The action came as a previous antiwar amendment when a six-month deadline was being considered by Senate-House conferees working on a military procurement bill.

Senate war critics indicated privately they might permit passage of the $21-billion arms bill, even if the antiwar amendment by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is diluted. But they indicated they would stand firm behind the amendment in the foreign-aid bill, even if it means holding up congressional adjournment, now set for Dec. 1 at the latest.

The new amendment attempts to prevent the Nixon administration from continuing military actions for such purposes such as securing release of American prisoners and giving South Vietnam "a reasonable chance" for survival, both stated objectives of the administration.

It would bar bombing attacks in Laos and Cambodia except on the Ho Chi Minh supply trail, and it is intended to deny authority for operations such as the 1969 U.S. attack into Cambodia and the 1970 U.S.-backed South Vietnamese drive in Laos.

The aid bill also contains the provision limiting U.S. spending in Cambodia to $250 million.

The new antiwar provision combines the Mansfield amendment with a new proposal by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, restricting U.S. funds to withdrawal plus actions to protect withdrawing forces "against imminent danger."

Foreign Relations Committee Chairman, J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., told reporters that, while he supports the amendment and thinks it may be useful for educational purposes, it is just an expression of opinion "and the administration doesn't pay any attention to them anyway."

Even if the House approves, Fulbright predicted the administration will "find ways with semantic gymnastics to get around this."

Harvard Dean Says Nominees Unqualified

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The dean and 34 faculty members of Harvard Law School says President Nixon's list of six potential Supreme Court nominees includes "plainly unqualified persons."

Dean Albert M. Sacks and the faculty members said in a statement Wednesday, "We are left with the conviction that the President has approached his task improperly, giving too much weight to factors which should have been subordinated to an overriding goal of locating candidates of the highest quality."

The statement said "at least half" of the six names on the President's list "do not measure up to the minimum standards we think the nation can expect and should demand of a Supreme Court nomination."

The professors did not indicate which of the six they thought were inadequate.

About 700 of the school's 1,500 students have signed a petition which said the six were "woefully inadequate." A student, Ted Naiman of Bloomington, Ind., said Tuesday

Surcharge May Continue Over a Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally says the 10 per cent surcharge on imports may continue for more than a year.

"It's going to stay on for a while because frankly it's to our economic interest," Connally told the concluding session of the American Bankers Association convention Wednesday.

"It will come off when this nation has some assurance that our balance of payments deficit will be rectified. And we know we can't to it in a year, in a short period of time," he said.

Connally did insist, however, that the surcharge on imports is a temporary measure.

He told a news conference that the United States has not abandoned its policy of promoting free trade around the world.

"We have changed the emphasis from free to fair trading," he said.

Connally made clear the United States will be firm in bargaining for equal trading opportunity and a new world currency structure with its international trading partners.

The dollar has floated against other currencies since President Nixon suspended dollar convertibility to gold in his August announcement of the 90-day wage-price freeze.

"It is my hope that when we restore whatever monetary system that evolves that we do it to provide equal opportunity for the United States to pursue its objectives," Connally told the bankers.

"Whatever evolves is going to be a system that insures fair treatment of the United States of America."

Connally said he thinks the prospects of dismantling controls are "very excellent in the relatively short run."

LR Bank Drops Prime Rate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Worthen Bank & Trust Co. of Little Rock, the state's largest bank, reduced its prime interest rate from 6 to 5.75 per cent, effective with the close of business Wednesday.

The bank's discount committee voted the reduction after a similar cut was announced in New York by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co.

Freeze Panel to Include Educators

By GAZLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is reaching into the academic community to fill key spots on the Phase 2 pay and price panels.

Dr. C. Jackson Grayson, dean of the Southern Methodist University School of Business, has been picked to head the seven-member Price Commission that will determine price and rental levels after the Phase 1 freeze expires Nov. 13.

"I haven't been advised yet why I was chosen," Grayson said Wednesday night in Dallas as he departed for Washington. "All I know is I got a call and decided it was an assignment I couldn't turn down."

His comments confirmed reports earlier in the day which the administration would not verify.

Additional choices for the Price Commission and 15-man Pay Board may be announced today. And administration officials say some of the members will be drawn from the academic community.

Grayson, 48, holds a doctorate from Harvard and has held the SMU post since 1968. He formerly headed Tulane University's School of Business Administration. He is a former newspaper reporter and FBI agent.

Firm Makes Fabricated Steel Items

Tennessee Forging Steel, a Virginia Corporation, plans to build a $1,500,000 plant in Hope, it was announced officially Thursday by Thomas E. Hays Jr., president of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation.

The plant will be located on 40 acres in the Proving Ground near the Oakhaven water tank with an option on an additional 20 acres. It will contain 311,000 square feet and will employ 240 persons, mostly skilled welders and draftsmen. The plant makes fabricated steel products used in construction.

It is hoped that work can start on the new plant by January 1, 1972 with production possible by Easter. Charles Munn of Florence, South Carolina will be general manager of the new establishment.

The selection of Hope as the site was made possible through the efforts of the local industrial foundation and Charles Bogue, representative of the Arkansas AIDC. This particular industry could possibly influence one or two more to locate in Hope, Mr. Hays said.

Financing of the new industry will be through Arkansas Act 9 and a special vote has been called for November 9 on a $1.5 million bond issue. Bonds issued under Act 9 in no way pledge the credit of Hope or Hempstead County. Purchasers of the bonds will be secured only by contract with the company involved. The plant depends on a favorable vote by Hope residents on November 9.

4 Whooping Cranes Back at Refuge

AUSTWELL, Tex. (AP) — Four Whooping cranes have come to a wildlife refuge here, the vanguard of an annual migration from Canada which naturalists hope will include some young of the nearly extinct species.

"The feeding grounds here are in excellent shape," said Robert C. Brown, manager of the Arkansas Wildlife Refuge, "and everything looks real good for the arrival of the rest of the cranes."

"We sent 56 to Canada last spring and we're hoping we'll get 60 birds back this winter."

The first four cranes arrived at this Gulf Coast refuge early this week from their summer nesting grounds at Wood Buffalo National Park in the Canadian Northwest Territory.

Brown said the 2,500-mile flight takes the birds four to six weeks, counting layovers in the Dakotas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

"Some of them drag it out to eight weeks but it depends on if they get some strong north winds to ride in," Brown said.

The cranes begin their courtship while wintering at this primitive-like setting of tangled undergrowth, shallow streams, bayous and marshes.

"As soon as they get to Canada they start building nests," Brown said. "I expect the rest of them anytime now. The four here now are all adults but we believe there will be four young come with the rest of the flock."

Of the 91 known cranes, 31 are in captivity at zoos and government research centers. Whooping cranes are not adaptable to change and, naturalists say, their life balance is delicate.

Cranes once ranged from Utah to the Mississippi Valley but since 1900 they have hovered on the brink of extinction.

Prime Rate Dip Fails to Help Market

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A cut in the prime lending rate by major banks pleased the Nixon administration but failed to stem a steep stock market decline.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York led the way Wednesday in trimming the prime rate—the interest commercial banks charge on loans—to their biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers—to 5½ percent from 6 percent.

Many big banks—including Bank of America of San Francisco, Chase Manhattan of New York, Continental Illinois of Chicago, Girard Trust of Philadelphia and Citizens & Southern of Atlanta—quickly fell in line with identical reductions.

Wall Street analysts said trimming of the prime rate was no surprise in financial circles, and was not responsible for the stock market's decline Wednesday for the sixth consecutive session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials tumbled 12.78 points to 855.65 Wednesday in its biggest drop in two months. It fell 38.10 points in the six sessions. Analysts attributed the slide mainly to uncertainty about the economic outlook.

Morgan Guaranty said its rate reduction "reflects market conditions, including a less than seasonal increase in loan demand and a decline in cost of funds."

Emmett G. Solomon, chairman of Crocker-Citizens National Bank of San Francisco, commented: "The move is consistent with national efforts to restrain further increases in costs, including interest costs."

President Nixon didn't include interest costs in the price freeze announced Aug. 15, but he asked for authority to control interest in legislation for Phase 2 of his economic program submitted to Congress Tuesday.

Treasury Secretary John Connally, who was attending the American Bankers Association convention in San Francisco when the prime rate cut spread across the country, said he was "highly pleased."

Communist Poet Wins Nobel Prize

By DICK SODERLUND
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Pablo Neruda, the Communist poet whose works helped develop the climate that brought Marxist government to Chile, won the Nobel Prize in Literature today.

Neruda, a leader in Chile's Communist party, became ambassador to France when Salvador Allende took over as president in Santiago.

The son of a railroad worker in the back country of Chile, Neruda—his real name is Nevaldo Ricardo Reyes Basalalto—once had to write in secret because his father opposed poetry and destroyed his son's writings.

His Marxist views are reflected in cascades of lyrics. One poem is called "La United Fruit Company," concerning the American company whose operations in Latin America were controversial for many years.

This goes in part: "... It established the comic opera, abolished the independencies, presented crowns of Caesar, unsheathed envy, attracted the dictatorship of the flies ..."

At 67, Neruda is regarded as Latin America's greatest living poet and had been a candidate for the Nobel Prize for two decades.

The prize is worth $88,000 this year.

Neruda was cited by the Swedish Academy for "a poetry that with the action of an elemental force brings alive a continent's destiny and dreams."

The award added one more triumph to the controversial poet-politician, a onetime Stalin Prize winner and political exile whose convictions carried him to Paris this year after the Marxist regime of Salvador Allende came to power.

He is the second Chilean to receive a Nobel Literature Prize. The first was a high school teacher, Gabriela Mistral, awarded in 1945.

had demanded agreement on the strike penalty before making an overall contract offer to the union. The industry said the union has yet to make specific contract demands on wages and welfare payments.

The strike-penalty provision would give coal companies the right to withhold wage increases from any union member involved in any work stoppage during the life of the contract, Boyle said.

The industry has complained of numerous wildcat strikes it said severely cut production in the previous three-year contract that expired Sept. 30. The miners walked out as soon as the old contract expired but the union didn't declare it an official walkout until Oct. 11.

The union contends many of the strikes under the old pact were legal walkouts protesting safety violations in the mines.

"The Bituminous Coal Operators Association is seeking to turn the union into a slave-herd and strike-breaker," Boyle said of the industry strike-penalty demand.

In the negotiations, Boyle has been seeking to boost current daily top pay of $37 to $50, at least double the present 40-cent-per-ton industry royalty into the union's $113-million Welfare and Retirement Fund, win sick pay for the first time and other contract improvements.

Rewarded for Getting Involved

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A young library clerk and a park maintenance man who decided to get involved are sharing a $25,000 reward for information which led to the arrest of a triple slayer.

"I think people ought to be honest enough to tell police what they know," Kenneth Williamson, the park worker, said Wednesday when he got his $12,500 check. "I think a lot of people are afraid to get involved."

Judy Wroblewski, 24, a clerk-typist at the San Jose State College library, said she is in no hurry to spend her share of the reward presented by Sheriff James Geary.

"I guess I'll just have a bigger savings account," she said. Williamson said he doesn't know what he will do with his share.

Geary said the two supplied leads which led to Karl Francis Werner, 19-year-old San Jose State student who pleaded guilty in Superior Court Sept. 1 to murder in the knife slayings of three teen-age girls.

Werner was sentenced to life imprisonment. The reward was offered in the Easter Sunday murder this year of Kathy Bilek 18, in Saratoga Park, where Williamson works.

"Williamson had seen Werner in the park, knew he hung around there and was a little odd," Undersheriff Tom Rosa of Santa Clara County said. Williamson volunteered Werner's name to investigating officers Rosa said.

Geary said Miss Wroblewski reported she was accosted in the park earlier this year by a man answering Werner's description.

"The method used to accost her was the same as the one we had determined for the Bilek murder," Rosa said. "In addition, he told her his name was Karl."

Authorities matched the two volunteers' reports and arrested Werner.

Agnew Wants Continued Aid to Greece

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

ATHENS (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says that if Congress votes a ban on U.S. military aid to Greece, he believes President Nixon's authority to override it "would have to be exercised" for the sake of American security.

"Not only do I think that military aid to Greece is a matter of overriding importance to the United States," Agnew told newsmen Tuesday night as he flew to the island of Crete, "but the President in resuming ... and continuing aid to Greece at the present time has already determined that for himself."

Reports of Agnew's airborne news conference were embargoed until today.

I don't want to imply that the President is going to fly in the face of congressional opinion, because the Congress has left him an option to exercise which I think he will exercise without question," the vice president said.

The House in August voted to withhold all U.S. military aid from the Greek military government to spur restoration of democratic rule. But the

Kosygin Keeps Up Diplomatic Campaign

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

OTTAWA (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin carries Moscow's diplomatic offensive into French Canada today after assuring Canadians that their relations with the Russians would get better and better without adversely affecting their friendship with the United States.

In Montreal, as in Ottawa since his arrival Sunday, Kosygin faced the possibility of protest demonstrations by groups alleging mistreatment of their people in the Soviet Union. The Soviet premier said his good impression of Canada "cannot be spoiled by any such sallies of anti-Soviet groups."

He told a news conference in Ottawa Wednesday he had seen nothing but good in his reception "and I cannot treat the attitude of the sort of riffraff that exists in any country as that of the whole people toward the Soviet Union. It will have no influence whatever on Canadian-Soviet relations."

Having wound up a series of discussions with Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, Kosygin told the newsmen that Canada could be assured that she would always have a friend to the north and "that friendship in the north should threaten no one in the south or anywhere else."

He expressed a conviction that Canadian-Soviet trade "will grow and grow considerably."

These statements come at a time when Canada and the United States, her closest ally and biggest trading partner, are at odds over Washington's economic policies. There is an element of nationalist feeling in Canada which yearns for more independence from the United States, and to this element the Soviet Union can offer a prospect of some sort of counterweight.

Clearly, however, one of the principal aims of Kosygin's mission in Canada, apart from showing the Soviet flag, is to serve as missionary for major Soviet foreign policy goals. He has been bearing down most heavily on the theme of "European security," which is regarded as perhaps the No. 1 aim of Soviet policy.

He has sought Canada's support in this, even to the extent of proposing parliamentary pressure on Trudeau to support it. He wants Canada to back a meeting of all European states, the Soviet Union, the United States and Canada to eliminate tensions.

The campaign has been going on since at least 1969 and has many facets, one of which is to make final and unchangeable the borders of Communist Europe and to win Western recognition of East Germany as a legitimate sovereign state.

amendment to the foreign aid authorization bill carried a clause releasing the $118 million appropriation if the President declares in writing that the aid is in America's overriding national security interests.

Agnew said that Greece is "an absolutely essential line of defense" to Western security, particularly in view of growing Soviet naval power in the Mediterranean. He said Greek bases and alliance with Greece are "vital and crucial and singular matters of our security."

The vice president also said that to his surprise, he had received no requests from Greek officials for increased U.S. military aid. "Nothing was said about inadequate levels or requests for additional assistance," he said.

New Method to Remove Face Wrinkles

By BRIAN SULLIVAN

AP Science Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A Miami surgeon has described a method for removing fine face wrinkles that cannot be treated easily by conventional plastic surgery.

Dr. Thomas J. Baker Jr. told a session Tuesday on "The Aging Face" at the 57th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons that "chemical peeling off" of the skin successfully removes the fine wrinkles.

The treatment dates back many years and has been practiced in studios run by laymen in the Miami area, Baker said. In recent years, this treatment has been refined by trained surgeons, he said.

The treatment is relatively simple but painful and only for carefully selected cases—mostly persons with light, fair complexions because it permanently bleaches the skin.

"It is not fun to have done," Baker told reporters, giving this description:

A chemical—usually what is known as carbolic acid, which is actually an alcohol—is applied to the face and the face is covered, except for the eyes, nose and mouth, with water-proof adhesive tape.

It is applied in small strips to

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. GERALD MORTON

The marriage of Miss Catherine Berry and Gerald Morton was solemnized at 8 p.m. September 17 in the Providence Memorial Baptist Church at Perrytown. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Berry, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Everett Morton and the late Mr. Morton.

The Rev. Guy J. Downing performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony before an arch of huckleberry, daisies and burning tapers. A white wrought iron prie-dieu completed the setting.

Miss Kuma Dell Alford of Shreveport, cousin of the bride, provided the pre-nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches. Prior to the ceremony she also accompanied Miss Mary Overturf, who sang "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire street length dress of polyester faille. The bodice featured a round neckline and was trimmed in Alencon lace. The Juliet sleeves of silk organza were gathered and trimmed with lace. A tiara of pearls and crystal beads held in place her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Attending her cousin as matron of honor was Mrs. Bill Keen of Crossett. Her street-length dress was of yellow polyester faille designed like that of the bride and trimmed in yellow lace. Her crescent bouquet was of white daisies and baby's breath with yellow streamers. In her hair she wore a yellow bow.

Little Miss Jan Patterson was the flower girl. Her dress of yellow polyester faille was designed with a high waist and puffed sleeves and was trimmed in wide white lace. She wore a bandeau of daisies in her hair and carried a white basket filled with daisy petals.

Master Collin Berry, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Preceding the ceremony, fit the contours of the face.

The procedure requires about five to seven days of hospitalization. For the first day or two, the patient is "rather uncomfortable" and narcotics are used for the first six to eight hours.

The chemical causes a burning that is "quite severe" at first he said. When the tape is removed, the patient is tranquilized, but in 21 to 28 days new skin is generated that has "a fresh look," Baker said. The patient must avoid sunlight for six months.

On the basis of a 10-year follow-up of more than 1,000 cases, Baker said, the changes in skin "are quite permanent." He said the procedure "may actually prevent skin malignancy."

Of the 150 or so procedures he does a year, Baker said the number of men is increasing from one to two or three a month.

Most of those seeking operations are average people, Baker said, not the wealthy despite his charge of $1,000 plus hospitalization costs which push the total to $1,300 or $1,400.

Asked if he would have the operation himself, Baker said he did not think he would need it, but if he did, "I'd be damn selective about who operated on me."

David Berry, brother of the bride, lighted the candles. Billy Don Hamm was best man.

Ushers were Doyott Collins and Jerry Carlton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Berry wore a turquoise dacron double knit lace dress with tortoise accessories. Mrs. Morton wore powder blue double-knit with black accessories. Each had a white daisy corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the private dining room of Perry's Restaurant. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth overlaid with net and caught at the corners with yellow streamers and glittered wedding bells filled with orange blossoms. Two three-branched silver candelabra held yellow burning tapers and a silver epergne was filled with yellow pom mums, yellow carnations, white daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Doyott Collins, and Miss Alice Walser of Crossett served the punch. Assisting in serving were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Roy McKinley of Dallas; Mrs. Tim Berry of Crossett; and Mrs. Weaver Collins. Also serving were Mrs. Charlotte Smith, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Bill Jones. Mrs. Billy Don Hamm was at the bride's book that was marked with a memory candle and flowers similar to those on the serving table.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Walser, Tim Berry, Bill Keen, all of Crossett; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bobo, Kenny and Glenda of Texarkana; Mr. and Mrs. John Ruffell of Ft. Smith; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKinley of Dallas.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple is at home in Hope, where both are employed.

WR Selected to Raise Army Museum Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Members of the National Infantry Museum Association, headed by former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, met here Tuesday to map plans for a fund drive to expand museum facilities at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The state of Georgia is to supply $1.5 million for the project with the association to direct a contribution drive to produce another $4.5 million.

The museum facility, to be owned and maintained by the Defense Department, would have 71,000-square feet, 12 exhibit areas, a library and a 600-seat auditorium.

Other members of the association presented to Rockefeller a World War II vintage M1 rifle, nonoperable, as a token of his dedication to the museum project.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

PARENTS, HEAR THIS!

Dear Generation Rap: This is probably the corniest letter you ever got, but here goes:

My parents yell at each other a lot, but I love them anyway. I even think they love each other under their shouting and grumbling. It's just that sometimes they don't think they love each other.

You see, we kids know our folks a little better than they think we do. We watch and wonder why they don't smile or laugh more when it's easier to be nice than to always try for the last and meanest word. If they gave compliments instead of slams and tried not to look at the dark side of life, they might see us and how we feel. And they might stop shouting! —ANN

Corny? No way! We hope your letter reaches a lot of parents who yell more than they laugh and then feel hurt because their children would rather be anywhere else but with them. —SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN:

Battling parents often don't realize that screamers breed screamers or the reverse, quiet mouse types. They may be setting lifelong patterns in their children.

And that's a pity, for a smile takes so much less effort. Dear Helen and Sue:

I'm 14 and disgusted. In school, we're constantly being drummed about the "evil" of drugs and how disappointed our folks would be if we turned on. At home, the same.

Today I overheard my mother talking about the grass that goes around at their parties. Then she started in about how one of my adult cousins (her age) had freaked out on dope.

Why don't older generation members start living up to their sermons? —DISAPPOINTED TEEN

Dear Helen:

Some do. But most can't live up to the "perfect" image children expect of parents. After all, your mother only talked of being where grass is, and knowing others who use dope. You could probably say the same.

Isn't it kind of comforting to know she's human? —SUE

Dear Helen:

...And maybe you can be more honest with each other, if she knows you know. —HELEN

Dear Helen:

This is for you because you're a parent.

Mine are too much. They expect me to get straight A's in school, do three or four hours of homework every night, and if I don't make valedictorian they'll probably die of shame. What chills me is they don't care how much I know, just what I make on my grade card.

I'd rather spend some of my time reading and learning things that interest me—not necessarily school work. That's REAL learning. I could do this and pull B's, which would get me into any college. But no, it's grind out those A marks and to heck with enjoyment. What's your opinion? —A.R.

Dear A.:

I'm with YOU, of course. It's better to enjoy learning at B level than take the A-train, fueled by quickly-forgotten memory work, leading to resentment.

Consider this: I was pushed into straight A's in school. Sue has never been overly pushed. I became a syndicated columnist after 40. Sue made it at age 16.

Let's hope your parents relax... but they won't! —HELEN

Page Three Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The ABC television network is enjoying its most popular season in years, but Wednesday night is full of headaches.

The schedule consists of four half-hour programs, mostly situation comedies, and an hour drama. All are suffering from acute low ratings.

"Bewitched," which opens the prime time broadcasts, is beginning to look threadbare after eight years. It is the same old combination of magic tricks and wrangling between the witches and the mortal husband.

The two half-hours that follow are warm, sentimental and family oriented. "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" continues to chart the difficulties of a widower affectionately trying to raise a boy. Eddie—played by the very appealing Brandon Cruz—this week was learning about responsibility in connection with a stolen bicycle. As usual, Eddie's father—Bill Bixby—also learned a lesson.

"The Smith Family" headed by Henry Fonda as family man and police officer, was also being taught a lesson. Sgt. Smith switched duty with a fellow officer to visit his son's school. The other officer was killed in a shootout, with the result that all the Smiths felt so guilty that they smothered the slain officer's family with attention.

Neither show, while officially comedy, is very funny—heart warming is probably the better word to describe them.

Then, alas, along comes "Shirley's World," which is still on the wrong foot. Shirley MacLaine, playing a moist unlikely magazine reporter, this week was fighting an oil tycoon planning to ruin some English countryside by building a refinery. One could not quarrel with the theme, but the execution was pretty bad.

The series, only about six weeks old, is considered to be a most likely candidate for mid-season replacement. It is believed to be one reason that the show that follows, "The Man and the City," is also faltering.

Anthony Quinn, playing the emotional, warm Chicano mayor of a Southwestern city in the hour drama, is almost overwhelming in his role.

This week's episode, with the mayor working his way out of a building scandal that started when an overpass collapsed, was attention holding and close enough to the headlines to seem real up to the pat happy ending. The series deserves a more visible spot in the schedule.

ANS fans in the crowd at a University of Nebraska football game are especially tense for supporters of the school's No. 1 ranked team.

Clemente Says Publicity Is Good

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Publicity means a lot to me because I need recognition," said Roberto Clemente.

The Pittsburgh Pirates star said Wednesday when he was awarded a star for his outstanding performance in the World Series.

It was the biggest moment of his baseball life, he said. "I finally have peace of mind," said Clemente, who says he hasn't been recognized properly in the press through his 17-year career, despite a .321 lifetime batting average.

Clemente, a straight-shooter, said he feels he is the best player in baseball right now. And he said he's just he could show it to millions who watched the Series.

The outspoken right fielder, considered a Puerto Rican Babe Ruth by his hometown fans, told a roomful of newsmen at a downtown restaurant.

"Now everyone knows the way Roberto Clemente plays. They say how I really play in the Series."

He never once dominated a seven-game series in recent years, it was Clemente. He is safely in every game for a .414 average, played a short outburst and was the Pirates' spiritual leader enroute to dethroning the Baltimore Orioles as World Champions.

The series was a showcase for his talents and Wednesday's audience was a perfect setting for his personal appeal.

"Well, here I am. You're probably all thinking, 'Here comes the guy with the big mouth,'" said Clemente, referring to his frequent popoffs on a variety of subjects.

Clemente didn't waste any time in touching all the bases. He took the audience on a trip through his baseball career when he first signed with the old Brooklyn Dodgers organization for $10,000. "I could have gotten $30,000 with Milwaukee but I turned it down."

Clemente said he is happy the Pirates bought him from the Dodgers for $5,000 despite his annoyance with the Pittsburgh press for allegedly not writing the truth.

"The writers called me a hypochondriac for my injuries and said I didn't get along with the players," said Clemente. "The press said I wasn't a team player."

Clemente hopes he has changed that image with his Series performance.

Los Angeles last made it four straight by whipping Atlanta 10-4 while in the other scheduled NBA games Golden State romped over Cleveland 108-98 and Chicago whizzed past Houston 125-101.

Dallas beat Atlanta 115-113 in overtime. Virginia defeated Philadelphia 108-98 and Kentucky staved Memphis 106-94 in the three American Basketball Association games scheduled.

Veteran Walt Chamberlain put the Hawks' starters ahead of the Hawks with a basket that broke an 80-80 tie, then tipped off 10 points in the last quarter as Los Angeles pulled away.

Jon McMillan, with 38 points and Gene Gooden, with 25, combined for 63 points to spark the Lakers' offense. Chamberlain finished with 16 but Houston led Atlanta with 37.

Paul Ruseff, 40, 35 and Jeff Mullins, 40, 27, combined for 36 points in leading the Golden State Warriors over Cleveland. Bobby Smith tallied 20 for the Cavaliers and Charlie Davis added 15.

In the National Basketball Association, Philadelphia's Jerry West led Los Angeles' Mervyn Dymally 30-18 in a 108-98 rout. Chicago's George Gervin led the Spurs 30-18 in a 108-98 rout.

Magnolia Favored to Beat Bobcats Friday in Annual Homecoming

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

For a team that finished only 1-4 last season, the Magnolia Panthers have come a long way this year under the leadership of Head Coach Don Hubbard.

Magnolia has built a well-balanced offense and a pretty capable defense to send the Panthers to a bowl seasonal reading before tomorrow night's game with the Hope Bobcats.

The Panthers lead the conference with a perfect 4-0 record.

Led by quarterback Ken Barker, a 150-pound junior thrower, the Panthers have put together an improved passing attack to go with some good strong running. Practically all of the passing is done from a sprinting situation, either left or right.

Leading the running game is Johnny Kincaid, a senior 160-pound speedster with knowledge to play. Kincaid is also a threat at catching the ball in the open with his good speed. Other backs are Tommy Jackson and Gary Miller.

Receiving is taken well care of by two line ends—Jimmy Wommack and Paul Kirkpatrick. Wommack is a 165-pound senior while Kirkpatrick is a senior, weighing 185. Both catch the ball and block equally well.

Out of the many starting players the Panthers have in the line some of the best are Ronald Byrd and Paul McMahon, both juniors that weigh between 175 and 180 pounds. Garret Smith and Mike Bourdine are two more that perform greatly for Magnolia. Smith is a 185-pound junior while Bourdine weighs 185 as a senior.

Other players include Clay Dickinson, Bill Elmore, Mike Meyer, and senior wingback Ruffy Moore, a 154-pounder.

Many thought Magnolia would not finish anywhere near the top, but so far they have fooled just about everyone—possibly even themselves. The Panthers will be hard to play against Friday night waiting revenge for losses.

Fears Some NFL Teams to Go Under

DETROIT, Oct. 20 (AP)—The owner of the Detroit Lions believes some National Football League teams may go under financially, leading to a reduction—rather than an expansion—of the number of clubs operating.

Cornell Back Near Record in Rushing

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Ed Marinaro is tired.

But he's not tired from carrying the ball more than 30 times a game for Cornell University's football team, which is what he's been doing for the past 2½ years.

"I've seen him get up slower after being tackled late in a game," says Coach Jack Musick, "but I've never seen it show in his running. After last year's Princeton game, the Princeton coach said Ed could have played two more quarters if he could have found anyone to play with him."

Marinaro, who has gained 3,630 yards in only 22 games and needs a mere 238 to break the all-time major college career record of Oklahoma's Steve Owens, is tired of having to play defense—off the field, that is.

"I'm really tired of justifying and defending myself," says the hard-running tailback, who should become the greatest three-year ground-gainer in the history of college football—major or minor—either this Saturday against Yale or next week against Columbia. "I'm always reading about people saying I'm in the Ivy League, that's why I'm doing what I'm doing. For a while I was getting convinced I was no good."

The 21-year-old senior from New Milford, N.J., is getting annoyed by all the flood of anti-Ivy criticism emanating from those parts of the country that like to think of themselves as king of the college football hill.

"In my sophomore year I was flattered that people even asked me those questions," says Marinaro, whose hamhock arms, broad torso and tapered waist translate into a 6-foot-2½, 210-pound top-flight professional prospect. "I've been told by enough pro sources that I'm a potential first-round choice if things go well. They've seen me play."

Marinaro has to put up with people like a group of West Coast sports writers who arrived in New York with the Stanford team last month the day after he gained 243 yards in a preseason scrimmage against Massachusetts and commented that they'd like to see him do it against big-time

BERRY'S WORLD

"Let me give you a tip. Don't become too emotionally involved with any professional sports team—it won't hurt so much when they move away!"

Angels Fire Their General Manager

ANAHEIM (AP) — Dick Walsh, hailed as a trading genius at the start of the 1971 baseball season, has been fired as general manager of the California Angels.

Board Chairman Gene Autry and Angels' President Bob Reynolds announced Wednesday night that they were not retaining Walsh, 45, who has four years to run on a seven-year opposition.

Marinaro doesn't have blazing speed but he went through a training program while working in Dallas last summer that enabled him to cut his time for the 40-yard dash from 4.7 seconds to 4.6, which is about as fast as any 210-pound running back in the National Football League.

"He's not a kid who wants something and just sits back and waits for it," says Musick. "He works. He went on a speaking tour and never missed a workout. He's had it in his mind for years that he's not going to let anything stop him."

The executives said "exploration talks" have been held with the Baltimore Orioles' vice president in charge of player personnel, Harry Dalton, who has been rumored for the past month as a likely successor to Walsh.

"A final decision will take several days," Autry and Reynolds said in a joint statement.

The Angels were touted as the team to beat in the American League West at the start of the season, and most of the credit was being given to Walsh, who had engineered trades for, among others, Alex Johnson, Tony Conigliaro, Ken Berry, Jerry Moses and Ken McMullen.

But the bright hopes turned cloudy as the Angels finished fourth last season.

A-State Drops in College Division Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Delaware rode a 48-7 walloping of Rutgers and a 5-0 record to the top of The Associated Press College Division football poll today as North Dakota State fell to fifth under the weight of its first loss in 36 games.

The Blue Hens garnered 10 of the 13 first-place votes and 227 points in the weekly balloting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters to vault up from third place to first, 17 points ahead of McNeese.

McNeese, fourth a week ago, got two first-place nominations on the strength of its 6-0 record and 31-31 victory over Northeast Louisiana. The remaining first-place vote went to No. 3 Eastern Michigan, second a week ago, which received 129 points following a scoreless tie with Eastern Kentucky.

Akron, with 126 points, moved up a notch to fourth following a 24-17 victory over Northern Michigan, leaving fifth place to North Dakota State, stunned by North Dakota 23-7 last Saturday.

The victorious Sioux and Tampa tied for sixth with 96 points apiece, 10 back of North Dakota State. Rounding out the Top Ten and Southern Illinois with 83 points, Tennessee State with 78 and Louisiana Tech with 64.

North Dakota and Louisiana Tech were the only newcomers to the Top Ten as Arkansas State, sixth a week ago but a 28-7 loser to Louisiana Tech, Grambling, seventh last week, and Western Kentucky, tied for 10th, fell from the start.

The TOP Ten College Division football teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and points. The ratings are based on a 20-18-16-14 etc. points basis:

1. Delaware 10	5-0 227
2. McNeese State 2	6-0 210
3. Eastern Michigan 14-0-1	129
4. Akron	5-0 126
5. North Dakota St.	5-1 106
6. Tampa	4-1 96
7. North Dakota	4-2 96
8. Southern Illinois	4-1 83
9. Tennessee State	4-1 78
10. Louisiana Tech	4-1 64

Penquins Are Early Season Surprise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Penguins shape up as the early season surprise of the National Hockey League.

Best in the West? Not quite, but they're tied for the West Division lead with the Chicago Black Hawks, who are expected to finish in that spot.

The Penguins, off their sixth-place finish last season, weren't expected to challenge the Hawks but Pittsburgh whipped the Los Angeles Kings 8-1 Wednesday night for their fifth victory in six starts.

The Hawks, meanwhile, were handed their first setback of the campaign after five straight successes. The New York Rangers turned back Chicago 3-1.

In other games, Boston edged Detroit 4-3, Buffalo swamped Toronto 7-2, Minnesota blanked Vancouver 7-0 and Montreal defeated California 4-2.

The Penguins built a 3-0 lead and were never headed. Bryan Hextall triggered Pittsburgh with a pair of goals. Bob Pulford of the Kings spoiled Jim Rutherford's shutout with a second-period tally.

The Rangers remained two points ahead of Boston in the East Division in tripping the Hawks. Brad Park snapped a 1-1 tie and Bobby Rousseau added the clincher after Rod Gilbert's fourth goal of the season put New York in front 1-0. Andre Lacroix had evened matters for Chicago.

Bobby Orr keyed Boston's conquest of Detroit with a goal and two assists as the Bruins opened a 3-0 cushion and then withstood the Red Wings' rally. After Detroit cut the deficit to 3-2, Ed Westfall provided the decisive goal for Boston late in the second period.

Buffalo spotted Toronto an early first-period goal and then completely outplayed the Maple Leafs. Eddie Shack paced the Sabres with a pair of goals while Jim Dorey and Norm Uelman produced Toronto's tallies.

Cesare Maniago fashioned his 12th career shutout in Minnesota's romp over Vancouver. Bill Goldsorthy powered the triumph with two goals as the North Stars shelled Canucks' goalie George Gardner with 57 shots—26 in the middle stanza.

On the West Coast, the Mahovich brothers, Frank and Pete, scored three goals to lead the Canadiens over the Golden Seals. Frank scored a goal in each of the first two periods. Pete got his marker in the second session and Yvan Cournoyer added the fourth goal in the final period when California scored on goals by Gary Croteau and Ernie Hicke.

SPORTS SHORTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams acquired linebacker Don Parish from the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday for an undisclosed future draft choice.

Parish, 23, was the Cardinals' fourth draft choice in 1970. He made the starting team and was voted the club's top rookie.

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — Rockingham Park reported today that it has run out of stall space for a 45-program harness meeting which opens Friday night.

A spokesman said that Rockingham's track maintenance crew took only 48 hours to convert the racing strip for harness racing. A thoroughbred meeting ended last Sunday evening.

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta's Hank Aaron has become the first to enter the American Airlines Golf Tournament. The competition is scheduled for Feb. 4-6 in Puerto Rico.

The tournament, featuring teams of one baseball player and one football player, was won last winter by Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Andy Russell of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Four-time champion Buddy Friedrichs of New Orleans took the lead in the North American Championships of the Dragon sailboat class with two victories Wednesday.

Friedrichs led both races from the starting gun as the sailing series opened on Lake Pontchartrain.

Two more races will be sailed today and the series will end Friday with one race. Friedrichs won the title in 1965, 1966, 1967, and 1970.

Really Bad Day

Sept. 24, 1950 must have been a frustrating day for Chicago Cardinal quarterback Jim Hardy. The Philadelphia Eagles intercepted eight of his passes that day to set a pro football record.

Packer Power

Green Bay has won more league championships than any other team. The Packers have won 11 times, while second place Chicago Bears have taken eight titles.

Injuries Are Hurting the Indians

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State Coach Bill Davidson said Wednesday that defensive end Steve Bryant had sprained an ankle and was a doubtful starter for Saturday's game with Abilene Christian in Little Rock.

The Indians lost defensive end Rick Bone two weeks ago with an ankle injury and Davidson said he was concerned about depth at the defensive end position.

The Tribe worked for two hours Wednesday in preparation for this week's game and Davidson had praise for split ends Tommy Johnson and Steve Burks for some fine catches.

He said both the offense and defense had good practices.

3--Kentucky Colonels ABA--Eastern Division

1970-71 finish: W 44, L 40--2nd place

PROSPECTUS: Colonels have all but mortgaged whole state the last couple of years in signing Dan Issel, 1970-71's Co-Rookie of Year, and now Artis Gilmore, who stands 7-2 (more like 9-6 when his Afro haircut is included). Ex-Celtic handyman Frank Ramsey brought team to peak at playoff time last season and Colonels almost made it all the way, losing to Utah in seventh game of final series. Now Ramsey is gone and Joe Mullaney has come over from NBA Lakers to try his hand. He has Gilmore to shore up team's weakest point, defense, and if big man does half of what Kentucky expects, they will clinch title by December. This could be the pro team that makes Kentuckians forget about Adolph Rupp.

FORWARDS: Issel (20.9 ppg to lead league) played center last season but at 6'9, he has grace, finesse and shooting touch to become Bob Pettit-type forward. If he maintains anything like his 14.2 rebound average and Gilmore's defense liberates him mentally to concentrate on offense, he'll tear up league. Likely partner is 6'7 Cincy Powell (8.1), heady four-year veteran unselfish and tough clutch player. Jim "Goose" Ligon (12.8), 6'7, starter last year, makes strong third forward. Returnees Les Hunter (9.3), Dan Hester (5.9) and Walt Simon (7.8), who can also play guard, will compete for what's left of playing time. Rating: A.

CENTER: There are those -- Bill Sharman is one who say Gilmore could become basketball's next Bill Russell, which is ultimate praise. Gilmore led nation's college players in rebounding last two years with 23 average blocked 10 shots per game and scared a lot of people out of taking others. Though it's not that easy in the pros, he should be defensive terror in league where good big men are scarce. Backup center will probably be Issel, with help from other forwards in pinch. Rating: A.

GUARDS: Lorne Dumpter (6'0) at 6'0 and Guard Carter (6'4) at 6'4 make a small back court team and it hurts them on defense. Dumpter is faster, though, and led team in assists. Returnees reserves: Tom Hagan (5.2), Mike Pratt (3.6) and Howard Wirth (4.6) haven't shown much, so help will have to come from rookies led by Pat Weathers of Houston. Mike Gale of Elizabeth City, Clarence Short of Wisconsin. Rating: B.

PREDICTION: Colonels should dominate Eastern Division, perhaps whole league. First place

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Rectal Exams

Are Important

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb - What makes blood appear in the stools? I had a real good X ray of my colon and stomach and ever since then when my bowels move there is some blood in the stools, bright red. My doctor says it's a nervous stomach. The reason I had this X ray was because I had had a pain on my left side but no blood in the stools then, just some mucus.

Dear Reader--Your doctor was probably trying to tell you that nervous tension was affecting your digestive tract or your colon to cause your difficulty. An irritated colon can cause bleeding. This isn't too surprising since there are so many blood vessels in the wall of the intestine.

Bright red blood usually means that the blood is from the colon or rectum. Blood from higher points, from an ulcer near the stomach for example, will be partially digested or black.

Hemorrhoids or piles are a common source of bleeding. The internal type, just inside the muscular sphincter ring can bleed without other symptoms. This area is not seen on a colon X ray and must be examined directly with a small scope in the rectum. Examination of the rectum by finger or scope is necessary to find disease in that area, including cancer, that will be missed by X ray. A large number of cancers of the bowels are revealed by finger examinations.

This prompts me to advise anyone that if his doctor doesn't do a rectal examination what he needs is a new doctor.

After an X ray, the harmful material used may irritate the rectum and if hemorrhoids are already present this can cause bleeding. This is a good reason for special care of the bowels after such an exam.

Cards Rotten in Denmark

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Hamlet, the melancholy Dane, was sadder than usual. Something was rotten in the State of Denmark and he knew what it was. His cards were impossible.

He soliloquized to himself, "To play or not to play? That is the question. For whether 'tis better in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune or just to quit the game and take up golf. Ah! There's the rub."

If looked as if the rubber was over when he gazed at a worse hand than usual and heard the seven no-trump bid.

The fair Ophelia led the dance of hearts. Goldenstern, sitting South proceeded to cash four heart tricks and it was up to Hamlet to make three discards.

It was also up to him to plan the defense in case there might be one and he instantly noted that his seven of clubs might be a key card. He decided that he could spare two clubs but made sure to keep that seven over dummy's six. His other discard was a spade.

Goldenstern cashed the three top spades and Ophelia was in mild trouble. She finally discarded the nine of clubs to hold protection for her jack of diamonds. Now Hamlet could count the entire hand. His seven of clubs was going to be good for the setting trick.

There was nothing Goldenstern could do. Ophelia had inaction.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a 14-year-old girl. My veins really show a lot in my arms and legs and they are getting worse. On each of my arms one sticks out on the top side. I am afraid this might wreck my future. I'm not that skinny, I'm 5 feet 1 and weigh 95 pounds. Will they go away or show forever?

My grandma says I work too hard. I cut grass, clean the house, dishes, pull weeds and am very active in sports.

Dear Reader—It is probably just one of your physical characteristics. As you gain weight as you mature they may disappear. A few medical conditions cause enlarged veins from pressure. You can do a simple test. Let your hand hang down to your side and watch the veins pop out. Now hold up the back of your hand just in front of your nose. If the veins collapse you probably do not have any increased pressure that would be medically important.

Reynolds Sees Approval of Friday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — ABC television newsman Frank Reynolds said here Wednesday night that he believed Little Rock lawyer Herschel H. Friday Jr. would be confirmed by the Senate if nominated by President Nixon to a position on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Reynolds, who spoke to about 900 persons at a Symposium '72 lecture at the University of Arkansas, said Friday was "about as well-qualified as anyone on Nixon's list of nominees."

The newsman said he did not think it was fair to judge a lawyer on the basis of his clients. He said, however, he was concerned about the reaction of blacks to Friday's possible appointment.

"You could see how they would resent the nomination of a man who fought on the side of (former Gov.) Orval Faubus," Reynolds said.

Friday, who is attorney for the Little Rock School Board, handled the Supreme Court appeals of the Little Rock school desegregation cases in 1958.

On another topic, Reynolds said he believed that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew would remain as Nixon's running mate in 1972.

He added that Nixon was "in the greatest danger since Herbert Hoover of being a one-term president."

Reynolds said that some persons had regarded Nixon as "unbeatable" because of his planned visits to Russia and Peking, the winding down of the war and his new economic policy.

"If these all work, I would be inclined to agree with them," Reynolds said, "but we don't know they will work."

He said that Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, was considered the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination simply because the news media says he is. He said that Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota was much stronger with the youth bloc.

Reynolds discounted Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okl., and Mayor John Lindsay of New York as possible presidential contenders.

He said Mills would probably have some support at the Democratic convention, but would stand no chance of getting the nomination.

Under Pressure Texas Oil Firm to Roll Back $6 Million Price Hike

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Texas oil company has agreed under government pressure to roll back some $6 million in propane gas price increases, the largest reduction since President Nixon froze wages, prices and rents.

The action by Wanda Petroleum Co., Houston, could trigger a $100-million general price rollback on propane gas by seven other major oil companies, government officials said.

The Internal Revenue Service is looking into records of the other companies to determine if they have violated the Cost of Living Council's guidelines on seasonal price increases.

"Obviously, we think the complaints have sufficient credence on the surface for us to pursue intensive investigation," Arnold R. Weber, executive director of the council, said in an interview.

In other economic developments:

—Dr. C. Jackson Grayson, dean of Southern Methodist University's School of Business, confirmed he has been chosen to head Nixon's new Price Commission. The seven-member panel will administer price controls in Phase 2 of the Nixon economic program. The White House reportedly is near a decision on naming members of the commission and of the 15-man Pay Board.

—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., announced the Joint Economic Committee he heads is opening hearings into reorganization of government economic-statistics programs. Proxmire accused the Nixon administration of attempting to manage economic news.

—The House Banking Committee postponed hearings scheduled to open today on Phase 2. The committee reportedly was unwilling to open the hearings without Treasury Secretary John B. Connally who said he would not be able to testify today.

—The Senate Finance Committee approved $1.37 billion in individual tax cuts on this year's income.

Weber said the Cost of Living Council has been investigating the gas price boosts for several weeks, based on complaints filed mainly by gas distributing companies, which operate at the wholesale level, and by consumers. Propane is used widely in rural area for heating and cooking.

In order for products to qualify for permissible seasonal price increases, they must have shown an identifiable price hike at a specific time of year, based on established practice and past experience.

Wanda Petroleum, a subsidiary of Ashland Oil Co., Ashland, Ky., said it had raised its prices thinking that it was in compliance with the government's previous guidelines on seasonal price increases.

Weber said the company failed to meet the test for seasonal price increases and he added, "The general feeling is that fuel doesn't have that consistent pattern" that must show up if prices are to be considered seasonal.

Viet Cong Is Stepping Up Harassment

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Four Viet Cong regiments have been ordered to step up harassing attacks on allied positions in the 11 provinces around Saigon, the South Vietnamese command reported today.

However, government spokesmen said the regiments pose no real threat as they are badly under strength, totaling at most 2,800 local force guerrillas and 300 sappers.

"We do not expect any kind of an offensive," said Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien. "These are not North Vietnamese troops but Viet Cong local forces who have been in the 3rd Corps Area since Tet 1968. They have not succeeded in anything but very limited activity."

Hien said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, Saigon's commander in the 3rd Corps Area, reported the four enemy regiments were ordered to "make some noise to cover the defeat of North Vietnamese forces fighting along the Cambodian border." This could account for the increase in enemy shelling and ground attacks on small government outposts around Saigon. To date, none has resulted in major battles.

In the latest such incidents, enemy gunners twice shelled a military airfield at Trang Lon, two miles northwest of Tay Ninh and 54 miles northwest of Saigon.

Hien said two barrages totaling 27 rockets caused no casualties. South Vietnamese militiamen sweeping nearby killed three enemy without suffering any losses, he said.

In the Cambodian border campaign 60 to 90 miles northwest of Saigon, 2,500 South Vietnamese rangers continued a pursuit operation in eastern Cambodia but made no significant contact with the enemy.

Hammer, Sickle Flying Near Washington Home Has Raised a Storm

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of the hammer and sickle flying within five miles of George Washington's home has turned a real estate deal into a minor storm whose winds have reached the White House.

At issue is a 27.5-acre estate five miles down the Potomac River from Mt. Vernon, home of the nation's first president, being sought by the Soviet government as a recreational facility for embassy personnel and their families.

The State Department, which must approve private land transactions by a foreign government, said Wednesday it is considering the Soviet purchase of the Wellington estate but is not at the moment disposed to approve the deal.

According to Charles W. Bray, department spokesman, "We have some reservations about the sale of land for buildings which have some historic meaning in this country."

The Wellington estate, now owned by millionaire capitalist Malcolm Matheson, was once part of the land owned by Washington. The main house on the property was built in 1757 by Washington.

It is the historic nature of the $1-million property that brought about the controversy and the White House involvement.

Rep. Joel Broyhill, a Republican whose Virginia district includes Mt. Vernon, sent a telegram to President Nixon demanding the department be ordered to refuse the Russian offer.

"I can't conceive of any circumstances," the congressman told the President, "where the Russian government would allow this nation to purchase land next door to that of the father of their country."

"Neither do I believe the American people want the Soviet flag flying on land adjacent to the most hallowed land of our country."

The White House had no immediate comment.

Fairly Large Fine for Book Return

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — When he was a student, writer William Manchester checked out a book from the University of Massachusetts library and forgot to return it.

Last week, the author of "The Death of the President," returned the book with the fine he figured he owed—$505.69 for being overdue 29 years, 5 months and 10 days.

Manchester, now president of the University Trustees of the Friends of the Library, said he found the book, "Six Plays of Clifford Odets," in his files. He said that as a library trustee he ought to set a good example.

And, since the maximum fine for overdue books is only $6, Manchester asked that the excess be put in a library fund drive which he will head.

Beer Poster Takes Cue From Mao

LONDON (AP) — One shudders to think what the thoughts of Mao must be.

Huge placards of somebody looking mighty like the Red Chinese leader have sprung up all over Britain.

Looking Orientaly serene, the man is holding a little red book in one hand. His other clothes a brimming tankard of beer.

The poster is part of a campaign launched by Watney Mann, a major brewer.

As producers of an ale called Red Barrel the company has used the color's political connotations for a sales drive under the slogan "Long Live the Red Revolution."

Other revolutionary leaders are doing their bit. A look-alike Fidel Castro, dressed in green jungle fatigues and beaming through his beard, is also armed with a jar of the amber liquor. One likeness would have you believe Nikita Khrushchev was a satisfied customer.

The pictures are all posed by models closely resembling the originals. The campaign, the latest in a scramble by Britain's beer barons for a highly lucrative market, has left a flat taste in the mouths of some leftists.

One charged Watney Mann with hypocrisy. Far from being filled with revolutionary fervor, the critic said, the company was among the biggest contributors to the Conservative party.
